dian teens and young adults who are treated to an amazing day of empowerment and networking, not to mention access to community leaders and famous keynote speakers. And lunch! There are opportunities to talk bursaries and internship programs with well-known Canadian institutions. I have to tell you — this is an incredible event organized by a group of dedicated volunteers who all hail from professional backgrounds. The mandate is simple yet powerful: Inspire our youth so that they can lead us in the future. We have advisory boards and committees as well as student committees and so much more.

This event is free to students and young adults — but you have to sign up!

This year's emcee is Frank Ferragine of BT and CityLine fame, and I'll be there in the morning saying hello. This is a chance to answer the call when opportunity knocks!
